

Databinding Lab

1. Create a component and include 'username' property in ts file.
2. In the component html file add an input field which updates a property ('username') via Two-Way-Binding
3. Output the username property via String Interpolation (in a paragraph below the input)
4. Add proper styling to the component.
5. Add a button which may only be clicked if the username is NOT an empty string.
6. Upon clicking the button, the username should be reset to an empty string.
